

The place of the 5th picture (on fol. 140a).

The picture of Zosimos and Theosebeia, standing and pointing to each other, as we described at the beginning of this book. And the picture of three men with a single, winged body.

The 6th picture (on fol. 141a).

The picture of Zosimos and Theosebeia, as we described. And the picture of three men with a single, winged body.

The 7th picture (on fol. 142a).

The picture of Zosimos and Theosebeia standing. And the picture of Zosimos with a woman standing in front of him and behind him. And the picture of three faces with a single, winged body.

The 8th picture (on fol. 143b–144a, see pages 114-115).

The picture of Zosimos standing with a gold face and body, and a gold sun on his head. And the picture of Theosebeia standing with him, as we described their picture. And the picture of three men in a row with wings. Their faces and bodies are golden, and their clothes are coloured red, green, and yellow. And the picture of three men with a single, winged body. Their faces are golden.

